

Anime Destiny

Panel Registration Information

Anime Destiny is looking for fan-run panels to fill its programming!

For people interested in holding panels, Anime Destiny will provide you with a classroom that can seat around thirty people. There will be a podium and an appropriate number of chairs behind a table. There are multiple chalkboards, a projector/screen, and a PA system to help enhance your presentation.

Panels will be allotted 1 hour blocks running on “Berkeley time” (there are 10 minutes at the start of each panel for clearing the room or setting up equipment, so the panel content length is actually 50 minutes for an hour block). Longer panels may be allowed if there is a sufficient reason for a time extension (please specify under “special requests/circumstances”).

AD will try to accommodate panelists requesting specific time slots. However, there will be no guarantee that all requests will be accepted due to the nature of scheduling. We expect panelists to be able to present at any time unless otherwise specified in the request.

We are allowing 18+ panels, however, please note that attendees will be carded at the door and the panel content must be contained within the panel room and time slot. 18+ panels will take place in the evening, so that general panels will be allotted prime time slots in the afternoon for their appropriate audience.

Panel content must be appropriate, lawful, and follow decency standard given the target audience. AD reserves the right to shut down and/or cancel panels at any time if they are found in violation of this. All Fan Panelists must be paying members of Anime Destiny.
